CIM Journal makes the grade

CIM Journal is now listed on the Web of Science Emerging Sources Citation Index. This listing confirms the high quality of the papers in the publication and the valuable contribution they make to the mining, minerals, metals, and petroleum sectors. It also ensures that CIM Journal authors will have their work read and cited by others.

This quarterly digital publication for peer-reviewed technical papers is available to all CIM National Members as a membership benefit and to non-members for a fee.
